

Irwan Abdalloh

He has been working at the Indonesia Stock Exchange since 2000 by occupying many positions related to research, products and market development. Currently, he is head of Islamic capital market division and also member of the National Sharia Board of Indonesia (DSN-MUI).

- Nov 2017 - present
Vice President, Head of Islamic Capital Market Division
- Feb 2014 - Nov 2017
Assistant Vice President, Head of Islamic Capital Market Development
- Nov 2009 - Feb 2014
Manager, Head of Market Development
- Jan 2008 - Oct 2009
Manager, Head of Product Development
- Nov 2004 - Dec 2007
Manager, Head of Corporate Strategy & Institutional Relation
- Jan 2002 - Oct 2004
Manager, Head of Research of Capital Market
- Jun 2000 - Dec 2001
Assistant Manager, Corporate Planning Unit

He is an originator of some business models in the islamic capital market of Indonesia, such as sharia capital market education program, namely the Sharia Capital Market School (SPMS), the Indonesia Sharia Stocks Index (ISSI), and the SOTS (Sharia Online Trading System).

He is also an originator of some islamic philanthropy products in the islamic capital market of Indonesia, such as the sharia stocks-based zakat and the tradable sharia stocks-based waqf.

He was the first Indonesian to receive the Cambridge Islamic Finance Leadership Award 2017 from Cambridge IFLP headquartered in London, England.

He is active as speaker about the Indonesian sharia capital market in many seminars/workshops and also active in writing about the Islamic capital market articles in domestic and international publications. He is a regular contributor in Islamic Finance News, an international publication for islamic finance, as a country correspondent since 2018.

He is the author of the book "Islamic Capital market" written in Indonesian.